About Shiproute - 24

“The Shipping Route Istanbul 2024 (SHIPROUTE-24) is reshaping the world maritime industry’s route to Istanbul.”

SHIPROUTE-24 will take place on October 22, 2024, at the “Divan Kuruçeşme” located in Istanbul. With the Netherlands as our guest country, we are honored to welcome over 600 industry representatives from around the globe. The panelists from the maritime industry will delve into current global maritime topics and provide insights into ongoing questions.

SHIPROUTE-24 will offer an unforgettable experience for industry representatives in one of the world’s leading maritime regions: Istanbul. The conference and dinner will allow our guests to engage with passionate individuals dedicated to this industry. It presents a tremendous opportunity to forge strong business relationships with a diverse array of companies and industry leaders, all against the breathtaking backdrop of Istanbul, a city that serves as a bridge between Europe and Asia. The Dutch and Turkish maritime industries boast remarkable histories and are well-known in the shipping industry. This year, as KOSDER we aim to strengthen the business relationship between the Netherlands and Türkiye while promoting common interests on an international level.

About KOSDER

Let's get to know KOSDER, the organizer of SHIPROUTE-24

Association of Turkish Coaster Shipowners and Operators (known in Turkish as KOSDER) is a non-governmental organization that brings together coaster Turkish shipowners and operators.

Established in 2014, KOSDER aims to contribute to the development of the Turkish maritime sector. It specifically represents companies involved in shipping with coaster vessels and works to address sectoral issues in this field. KOSDER's mission is to protect the interests of its members, modernize the Turkish coaster fleet, and raise standards in maritime transport. It also aims to align Turkish maritime trade with international standards by collaborating with global maritime organizations. Through educational activities, seminars, and conferences, KOSDER raises awareness within the sector. As a strong representative of the Turkish maritime industry, KOSDER plays a significant role and closely monitors developments in the sector.

Hakan Çendik

President of Association of Turkish Coaster
Shipowners and Operators

The maritime industry, which transcends borders and offers humanity a boundless world, continues to unite Maritime industry representatives from across the globe. Beyond transporting cargo and contributing to trade and employment, our vessels serve as bridges of friendship and solidarity among diverse cultures and nations. As the Association of Turkish Coaster Shipowners and Operators (KOSDER), we are delighted to celebrate this crucial aspect once again this year.

In our voyage titled “İstanbul: The Maritime Route (SHIPROUTE)” –in the sense of a ship voyage– we are transforming the route of the Netherlands, one of the world’s foremost maritime nations and the guest country of our event, into the cradle of civilizations and the pearl of the Bosphorus, Istanbul. We extend our heartfelt thanks to our distinguished guests, the Royal Association of Netherlands Shipowners (KVNR), who, alongside KOSDER, has played a key role in shaping this collaboration and has provided invaluable insights and support throughout our organization.

SHIPROUTE-24 anticipates the participation of over 670 industry representatives from at least 40 countries in the enchanting atmosphere of Istanbul. Our guests will engage with passionate individuals dedicated to the industry, presenting a tremendous opportunity to forge strong business relationships with a diverse array of companies and industry leaders, all set against the breathtaking backdrop of Istanbul—a city that connects Europe and Asia. The conference segment of SHIPROUTE-24 will feature esteemed panelists from the maritime industry who will delve into current global maritime topics, offering insights into ongoing inquiries.

Following the conference, participants will enjoy a unique experience at the cocktail reception and gala dinner, benefiting both themselves and the companies they represent. SHIPROUTE-24 will also mark a remarkable milestone: the centennial of friendship between Türkiye and the Netherlands. We are delighted to welcome a special guest, Karsu, a talented musician with both Dutch and Turkish roots, who will add a unique and vibrant touch to our International Shipping Conference and Gala Dinner. We eagerly anticipate gathering at SHIPROUTE-24, where the maritime industry will joyfully benefit from unity and solidarity. Finally, we extend our gratitude to all our esteemed guests who have accepted our invitation, our sponsors who have supported the event, and the valuable members of KVNR. We also express our deep appreciation to our Board Members for their financial and moral support in making SHIPROUTE-24 a valuable gift to the global maritime community.

ROYAL ASSOCIATION OF
NETHERLANDS
SHIPOWNERS

For this year's edition of the Ship Route conference in the ancient and beautiful city of Istanbul, the Netherlands was selected as guest country. And I am honored that the Royal Association of Netherlands Shipowners (known in Dutch as KVNR) was invited to participate throughout the programme. I warmly thank the Turkish Coaster Shipowners and Operators Association for organizing this conference and prominently embedding a Dutch perspective on international coastal shipping.

I reminisce the words of my Greek colleague Charalampos Simantonis at the previous and first edition of Ship Route about the importance of Short Sea Shipping in Europe. This maritime subsector is key to a thriving region of the EU and its neighbours. Looking at the Netherlands, the Dutch shipowners hold a top five position in the European short sea. Besides moving goods over sea, some of my members also look at Türkiye to build and recycle their ships. I am therefore thrilled to take part in SHIPROUTE-24.

Although Türkiye and the Netherlands are located on the far sides of the European continent, both countries share a rich history of cultural and diplomatic relations. This is partially shaped by waterborne trade. In today's world, the need for cooperation is strongly felt in the fields of the fourth maritime propulsion revolution, otherwise known as the maritime energy transition. But how to shape this future of shipping? In accelerating the development of green technology and alternative fuels for the maritime sector, we need to maintain global competitiveness through creating an advantage in innovation. In order to enable the maritime supply chain to do better we need international regulations that facilitate sustainable growth and circularity. And by providing better access to finance, shipowners can become true frontrunner. I very much look forward to discussing these topics during SHIPROUTE-24 and I hope to discover new and promising insights.

SOLUTIONS THAT DRIVE PERFORMANCE

Navigate the Future with Sustainable Solutions!

Fuel-Efficient Technologies

Combatting biofouling is crucial for fuel efficiency, emissions reduction, and meeting IMO's decarbonisation goals. The Carbon Intensity Indicator (CII) is driving shipowners to prioritise emission-cutting strategies. Our antifouling solutions can reduce fuel consumption by up to 10%.

Hull Optimisation

Proactive and reactive hull cleaning can significantly impact marine biodiversity. We offer shipowners proactive solutions, including ROV inspections, trusted analytics, and hull monitoring.

Eco-Friendly Fuels

Green shipping reduces emissions through eco-friendly methods. Clean hulls lower fuel costs, which is essential regardless of future fuel choices. Our solutions, applied to over 4,000 ships, help reduce global fuel consumption.

Performance meets sustainability on the open sea.
